

MAINTENANCE OF PERSONNEL FILES

All documents contained in employee personnel files will be maintained for a period of seven years from the last date on which the individual was employed. If there are any claims relating to the individual's employment, the documents contained in the personnel file will be maintained until those claims are finally resolved.